DETAILED ACTION

Claim Objections

1. Claim 1-3, 6, the last element of each claim does not terminate with an “and”.
2. Claim 11 mentions the system twice. The Examiner has interpreted, the second system is meant to be a new claim and has been treated as such.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

4. Claims 1-2,4-7,9-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by US Patent Publication 2003/0188153 to Demoff et al.
5. Regarding Claim 1, 6 Demoff discloses the receiving a request for storing digital item see Fig. 3 item 300; splitting the data item based on random factors see Fig. 3 item 306 & Par. 0023; recording the splitting algorithm random factors in relation to the digital item see Par. 0029 & Par. 0038; recording all data fragments in at least two internet servers(Back-up server & Storage management server) out available selection of servers according to algorithm based on rules and random factors see Par. 0038 & Fig. 2 & Fig.1; recording location algorithm random factors see Par. 0026 & Fig. 1 item 120 & Par. 0027(where the distribution of fragments and where they are sent are stored); receiving request to restore the item, retrieving the fragments according to location algorithm see Fig. 4 item 406 & 408; and integrating the fragments according the splitting algorithm see 412.

6. Regarding Claim 2, 7, Demoff discloses the first user to store digital item see Fig. 2 item 210; intercepting the transmitted item at the first user accessing point see Fig. 2 item 204; identifying and associating intercepted data item see Fig. 2 item 210; pushing level encryption message to first user Par. 0038; first user selecting of encryption level see Par. 0038; first level delivery of data item to second user see Fig. 2 item 214; second level encryption is selected encrypting data before delivery data to second user see Fig. 3 item 312; third level of encryption to split the data into three data fragments based on random factors and recording the random factors see Fig. 3 item 308; recording all data fragments in at least two internet servers out available selection of servers according to algorithm based on rules and random factors see Par. 0038 & Fig. 2; recording location algorithm random factors see Par. 0026 & Fig. 1 item 120 & Par. 0027(where the distribution of fragments and where they are sent are stored); receiving request to restore the item, retrieving the fragments according to location algorithm see Fig. 4 item 406 & 408; and integrating the fragments according the splitting algorithm see 412.
7. Regarding Claim 4, 9, Demoff discloses the splitting operation is being performed at the client terminal before transmitted to the user access point according predetermined rules and random factors see Fig. 2 & Par. 0034.

8. Regarding Claim 5, 10, Demoff splitting operation is being performed at the access point before transmitted to the user access point according predetermined rules and random factors see Par. 0038.
9. Regarding Claim 11-12, Demoff discloses the splitting algorithm containing characteristics of the fragment size and number of fragments and non-sequential manner see Par. 0039 & Par. 0028.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

10. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

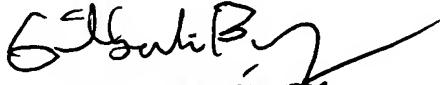

11. Claims 3, 8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over US Patent Publication 2003/0188153 to Demoff et al in view of US Patent Publication 2006/0072744 to Ogihara et al.(hereinafter Ogihara).

12. Regarding Claim 3, 8, Demoff does not disclose the transforming data item to 3D representation of identified by coordinates and a 3D structure. However, Ogihara discloses the transforming data item to 3D representation of identified by coordinates and a 3D structure see Par. 0044 & Par. 0034. It would be obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to include the transforming data item to 3D representation of identified by coordinates and a 3D structure in the invention of Demoff in order to perform operation via matrices as taught in Ogihara see Par. 0045.
